REMINDER

"Round Thy Walls the Ivy Twineth"

Published by the Students of the

James T. Lockwood High School

Warwick, Rhode Island

Foreward

In presenting the 1955 edition of the Reminder, we have attempted to depict and preserve forever the entire activity of the final year within the ivy-clad walls of James T.
L o c k w o o d H i g h S c h o o l .

The hour glass with its ever-flowing sands of time represents the last hours of Lockwood's existence as a high school. Throughout the book there appears the friendly little B l u e

Devil, our athletic symbol,

whose life, along with Lockwood High

School's, has come to an end.

It is with great pride in having been a part of Lockwood's glorious past, with a little sadness in parting, and with the assurance of success for the years to come that we present to you the final edition of the Lockwood Reminder.

DEDICATION

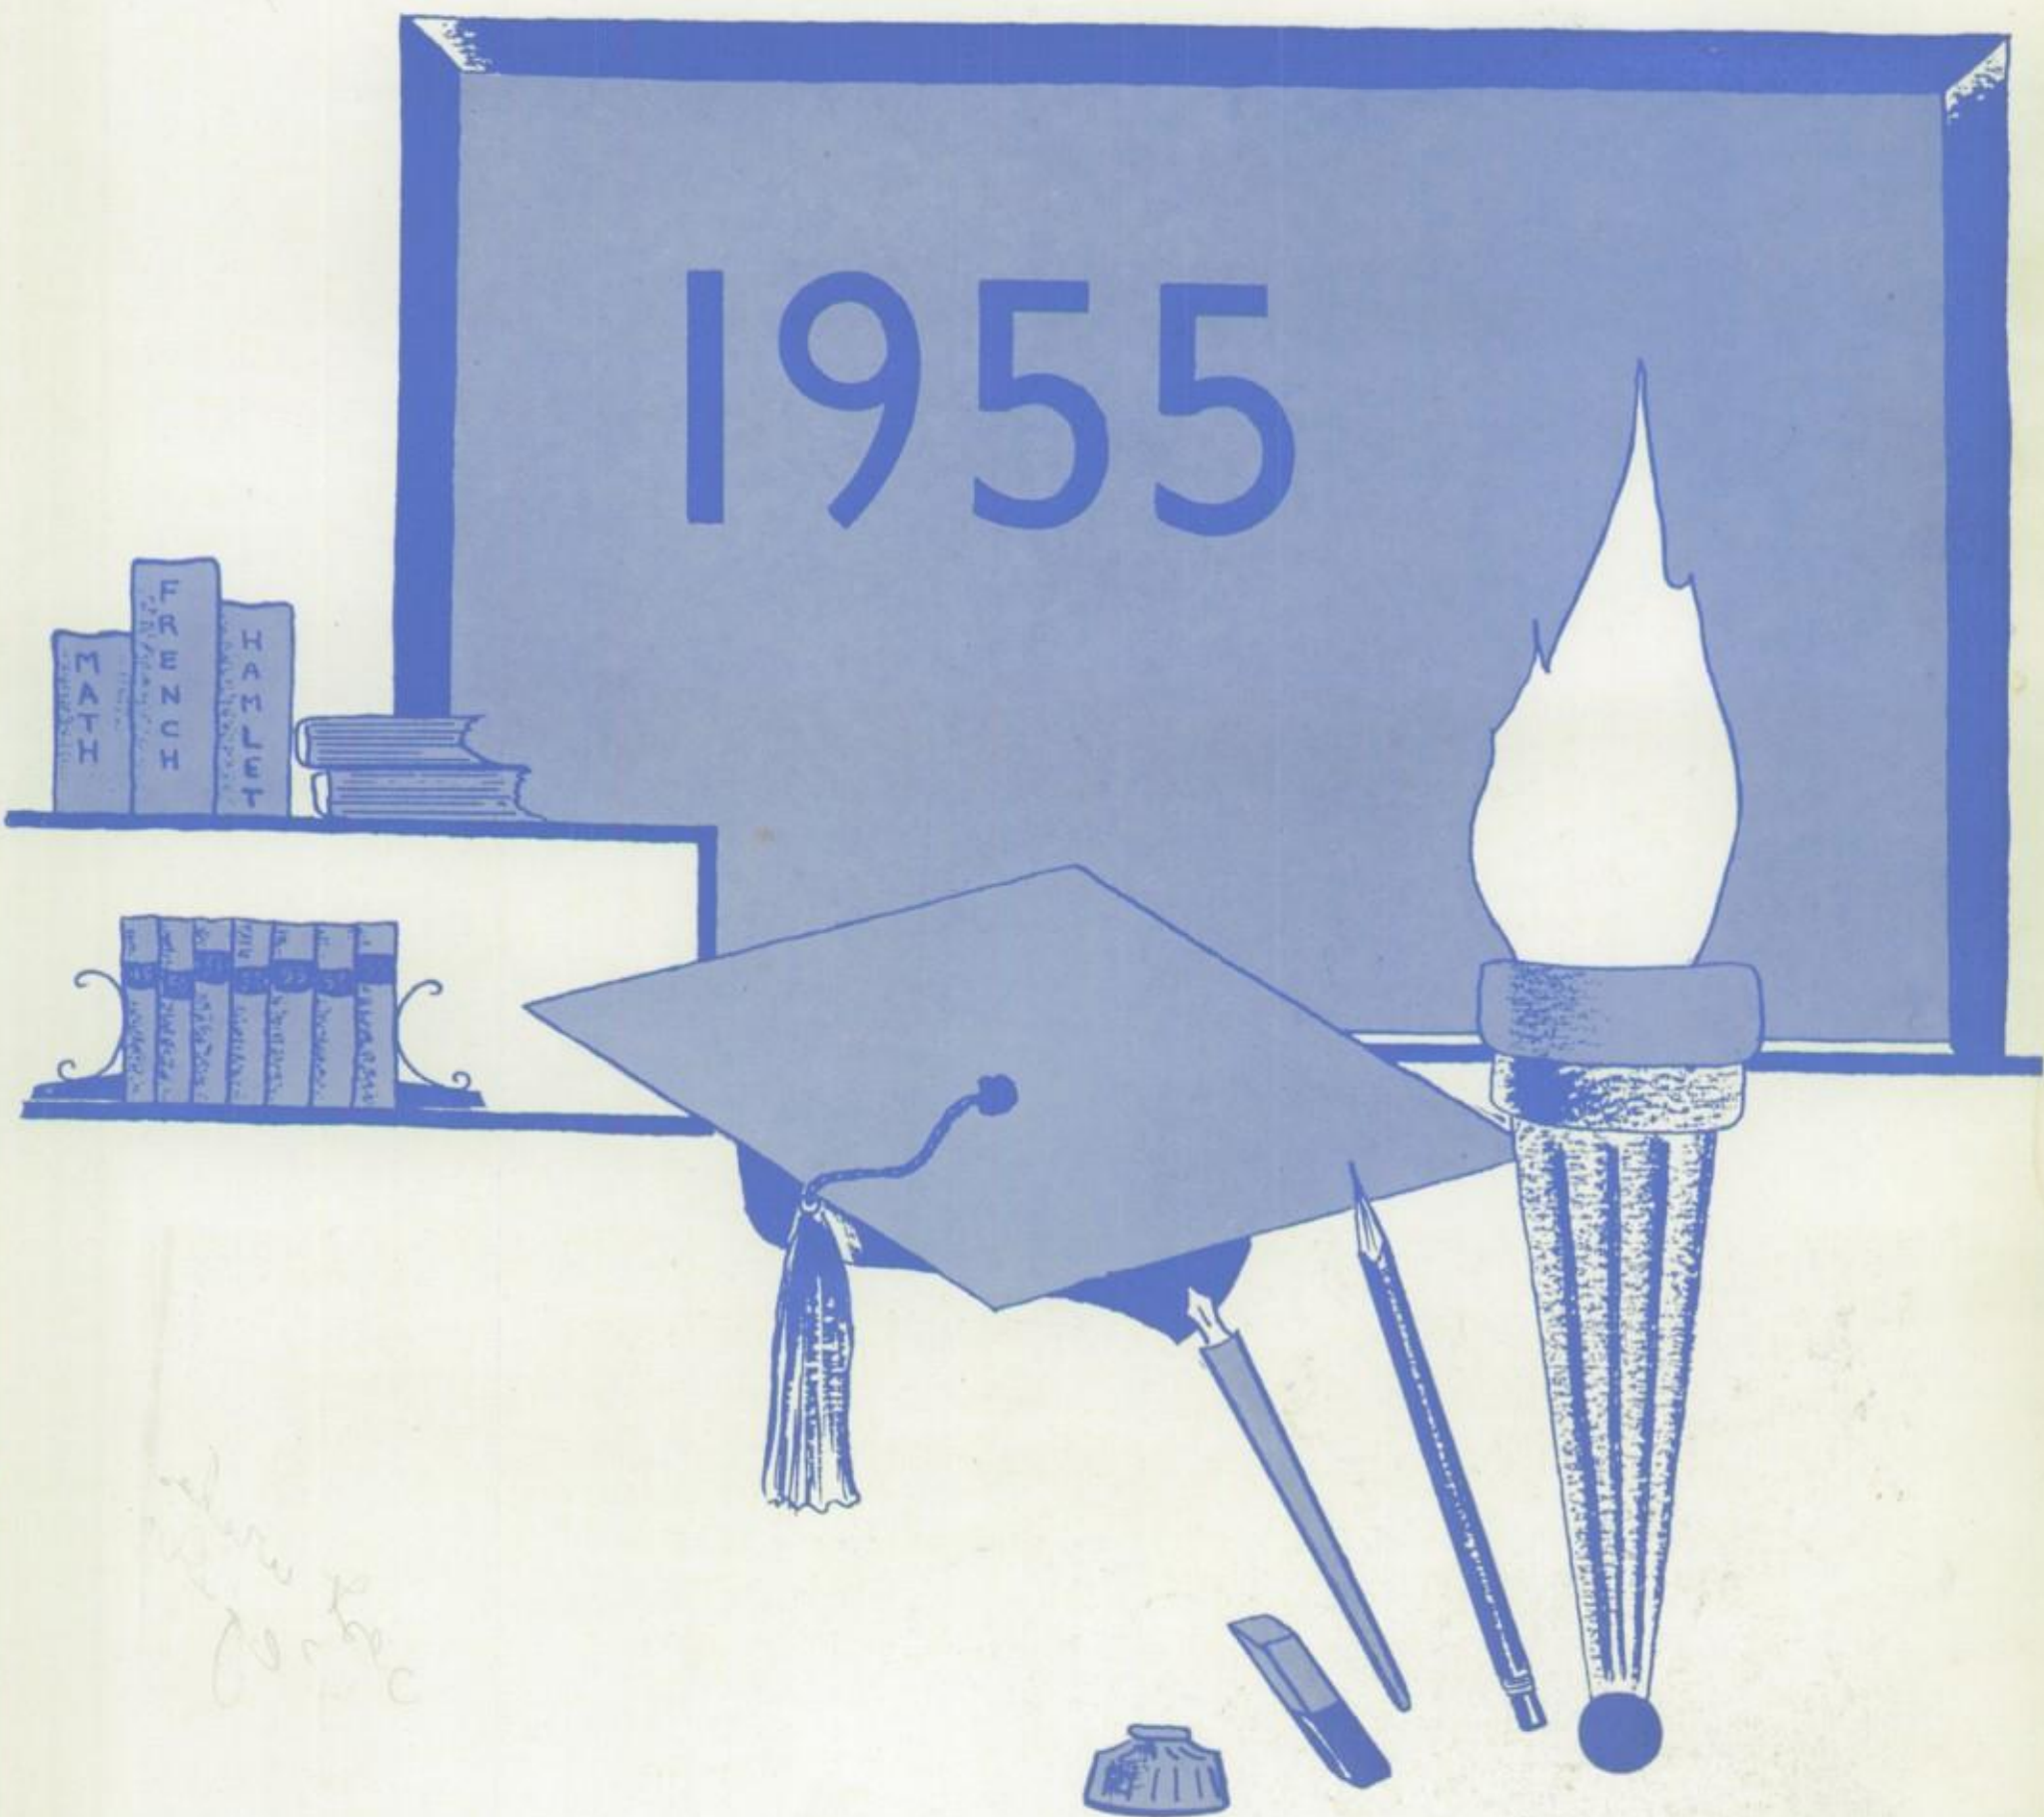

We, the Class of 1955, hereby dedicate the final edition of the Lockwood Reminder to Mrs. Dorothy Mayor. Serving as our class adviser from 1951 to 1954, Mrs. Mayor gave abundantly of her time not only during school hours but after school and on weekends as well. Our success in class projects could not have been accomplished without her expert guidance and kindly advice. Her patience and understanding, her devotion to high ideals, her spirit of progress, and her eagerness to make the best available to all her pupils have been a source of inspiration to all of us.

To you, Mrs. Mayor, we render our heartfelt appreciation and are proud to dedicate our yearbook to you, our teacher, adviser, and friend.

Senior Executive Committee

The Senior Class Executive Committee is made up of twelve members, who are elected by the class at the beginning of the year.

The function of this group is to make definite decisions in determining class policies and activities throughout the school year. The success of our senior year is due mainly to their interest and efforts on our behalf.

In Appreciation

To Miss Willard, our capable advisor and friend, we wish to express our sincere gratitude for all the time and energy that she has contributed to the Class of 1955.

Her understanding attitude and able assistance has smoothed out the rough spots in the sands of our last year.

Alma Mater

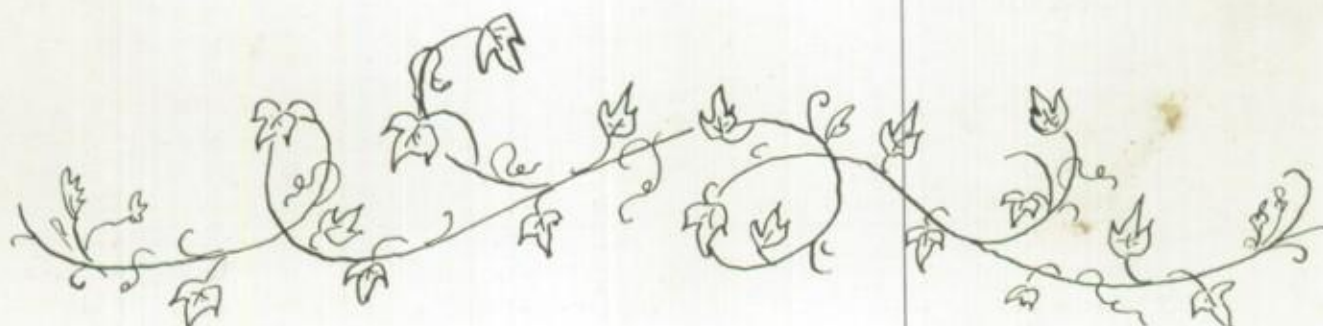

Round thy walls the ivy twineth
Verdant is the grass.
In thy halls with dear companions
Happy hours pass

Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Spirit proud and free
Sing thy loyal sons and daughters;
Lockwood, hail to thee!

Golden days of youth may vanish;
Truest friends may part,
Yet the love by thee inspired
Lives in every heart.

Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Spirit proud and free
Sing thy loyal sons and daughters;
Lockwood, hail to thee!

THE SANDS OF OUR TIMES

"Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst."
Old English proverb.

Yes, these were the sentiments of a bewildered-looking group of seventh graders, as they mounted the steps of Lockwood High School one gray September morning in 1949. They were awestricken with the vastness of this new place and lost in perplexity by the sea of strangers which seemed to engulf them. Little did they realize that these so-called strangers, classmates and teachers alike, would one day be numbered among their most intimate friends. That was the confused and insecure Class of 1955.

As the days turned into months, we gradually became accustomed to the daily routine of high school life. The rotating system of class periods was not quite so confusing, and we even ventured to enter the Junior High Play Competition with "Help Wanted." Some of the more enterprising members of the class dared to take part in the R. I. Junior High Drama Festival, which was being held for the first time. Even though we did not win, we baby Blue Devils had taken our first step.

*"Tis education forms the common mind;
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."*
Alexander Pope.

Grade eight was another year of adjustment for us. As we made more friends and entered into more activities, we were being molded not only academically, but socially as well. Members of the class joined organizations such as Jr. High-Y, Band, Orchestra, Masquettes, and started to take part in sports activities. Again, we entered the Jr. High Play Competition; this time with "Wildcat Willie." We were growing.

"There is no royal road to learning."
Euclid.

In the ninth grade divergent courses of study were pursued by each of us. Some preferred business training, others a general course, and still others followed a college preparatory curriculum. At first we found our new subjects extremely difficult to master, but we learned to study; and with study came reward. Twenty-seven of us were elected to the National Junior Honor Society.

This was the year that we really commenced working as a class. Our greatest achievement was the "Spring Frolic." It was the first time in the history of Lockwood that a Freshman class had sponsored a dance; and, to the pleasant surprise of all, it was a pronounced success. The Class of Fifty-five was making itself known.

THE SANDS OF OUR TIMES

"Time Flies"

Ovid.

There we were in our first years of high school. It didn't seem possible. To start off the year with gusto, we held a paper drive, which was an overwhelming success. "The Gypsy Jubilee," a juke-box dance which was held in the Study Hall, added to our ever-increasing treasury. In the meantime fellow classmates were distinguishing themselves on the football and basketball teams, while others were participating in Student Council, "Warwickite" staff, Cheerleading squad, Good Will, and various other organizations and clubs. At last we were genuine Blue Devils.

"We don't know one millionth of one per cent about anything." Thomas Edison.

No matter what course we were following there was no doubt about it—scholastically, grade eleven was the most difficult of all. It seemed that the more we learned, the more there was to learn. Nevertheless, we managed to find time for a combination paper and bottle drive, "The Sweetheart Ball," and the crowning event of the year, our Junior-Senior Prom. We worked harmoniously with the Senior class to make the prom, "Garden In the Rain," an outstanding event. We were now prepared to ascend to the zenith of our high school career and claim the title of "The Senior Class of Nineteen-hundred fifty-five."

"The price of wisdom is above rubies."

Job 28:81

It was not until our Senior year that we realized the value of a sound education, and we made one final effort to strive for perfection in all our endeavors. We began by electing a very capable Executive Committee with "Pete" Erickson in command as class President. After our Senior pictures had been taken, we embarked on the money-making project of selling Christmas trees. The "Holly Hop," our Christmas dance, was held in the Auditorium, and everyone agreed that it was a breath-taking, beautiful spectacle. Another major event was the annual Varsity Revue, "Hit the Road," in which practically the whole class took part. We must not forget to mention our valiant football team, which captured the Class C Co-Championship. We are proud that Lockwood's last team was so magnificent.

With the month of February came relief, for Mid-Year Exams were gone forever, and we concentrated on the production of our Senior Play, "What A Life." Much time and energy were consumed in this show of shows, but this hilarious comedy was well worth the toil we put into it. The more fortunate members of the class had the unique opportunity to travel, either in the Florida Exchange, the U. N. Trip to Washington, D. C., or to the New England Music Festival in Vermont. Honors Day brought recognition to more brilliant classmates who became members of the R. I. Honor Society.

The Senior Prom, Class Day, and our Class Banquet were unforgettable events; then the big night finally arrived. This was the Grand Finale — this was Graduation. As we stood waiting to receive our diplomas, our minds wandered back over the six years we had spent at Lockwood. They had been years filled with learning, laughter, friendships, and even trial and tribulation sometimes, but they had been the happiest years we had ever known. As we sang the "Alma Mater" for the last time, there was many a tear-dimmed eye, but in every heart was the knowledge that we, the last class ever to graduate from Lockwood High School, had done our best. We could do no more.

*"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our life sublime
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."*
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

IN THE CLASSROOM

English

This scene is familiar to every Lockwood student as each one at one time or another has found it necessary to seek help from the library. English is one of the most important subjects taught, as everyone must pass three or four years according to his course of study.

Science

A variety of courses in science includes General Science, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry. Here the characteristics of the homing pigeon are demonstrated to a class in Biology.

Mathematics

The students of Lockwood are offered mathematics courses at business, college preparatory, and general levels. These Florida exchange students at the blackboard are helping their northern friends to solve a geometrical problem in Review Math 12.

Agriculture

Those interested in the agricultural aspects of education may participate in this well rounded curriculum. The main principles of farming, dairying, and horticulture are taught.

Social Studies

The social studies department provides numerous courses such as: U. S. History, Civics, Political Science, Modern and Early European History, Problems of American Democracy, and World History. Each graduate has successfully completed at least one of these Social Study courses.

Domestic Art

This department trains future citizens for gracious family living. Cooking, Sewing, Home Nursing, Interior Decorating, Child Care, and Family Relations comprise the homemaking program.

Language

College preparatory students are obliged to study at least two years of a modern foreign language. Courses in French, Spanish, German, Latin, Italian, and Portuguese are available to those interested.

Industrial Arts

Courses in the Industrial Arts field provide vocational training which enables them to secure future occupation. The house in this picture was built to scale by one of the shop students.

Art

Talented students may express their creative ability by way of the art program. Many posters and displays throughout the school originate here. One of their annual projects is a colorful stained glass window which helps to decorate the school at Christmastime.

Gym

Physical education is required of every boy and girl. It affords mental relaxation from academic studies. Lockwood is noted for its well developed gym program.

Under the supervision of Mr. Moss and Nancy Trainor, this year's sales reached the highest peak of its 28 years. Without their success in procuring enough advertisements to raise the necessary funds, this publication would not have been possible.

In order to prepare the material for the printer, the typists carefully typed and submitted the copy.

Many Thanks

We, the Reminder staff, wish to thank Miss West, our literary adviser, and Mr. Moss, our business adviser, for their unselfish guidance and tireless effort. They willingly sacrificed many hours in order to aid and direct us.

Working with them has been a gratifying experience which we shall never forget.

Taking their places at corridor posts, they guide student traffic between classes. An other duty consists of ushering at plays, concerts, shows, and other events of the year.

This year in co-operation with the new Student Advisory Committee, they issued summonses for unruly conduct in the cafeterias and corridors. This new practice obtained very satisfactory results.

Special items of interest are the "Senior in the Limelight," letters to the editor, and a selection of short stories and poetry written by Lockwood student authors. Members of the Junior High have a separate page for their own activities.

Under the excellent faculty direction of our literary adviser, Mrs. Ruth Flynn, and our business adviser, Miss Josephine Del Vecchio, THE WARWICKITE has been successful.

Everyone on the staff extends his sincere thanks and appreciation to all loyal Lockwood students and to our advertisers for making the publication of THE WARWICKITE this year the best, as well as the last, senior paper of James T. Lockwood High School.

However, the remaining members of the cast, headed by Patricia Hampshire as Henry's girl, Barbara Pearson, Harold Allen as the assistant principal, Mr. Nelson, and George Seavey as Mr. Bradley, the principal, finally succeeded in helping Henry out of his many dilemmas. Athletic Association

The Athletic Association is one of the important service organizations in Lockwood. The members are volunteers from all grades, who spend many hours after school assisting their adviser, Mr. McIntyre, in the duties of the A. A. They prepare the football field for games, sell candy, soft drinks, and programs at football and basketball games, and assist with the inventory and issuing of athletic equipment. Some have worked at thirty games, although awards are given for working at only six events.

The committees are composed of nine members, three from each grade. Members are elected by the students within their respective grades.

A chairman and a secretary are elected by the members of each committee for a term of three months.

This innovation proved to be a successful venture.

Lockwood — Manatee Exchange

This year for the first time in Rhode Island Lockwood took part in a high school exchange plan with Manatee County High School in Bradenton, Florida. Thirty-one Florida students came to Lockwood in January to spend a week of educational sightseeing of historical and industrial New England and to learn the functioning of our school system.

During February vacation Lockwood's thirty-one pupils returned the visit to Bradenton. Our students enjoyed a week of sunshine, education, and pleasure as well as re-newing their January made friendships.

This exchange proved to be an overwhelming success. We are proud that Lockwood is among the few high schools in the country who have participated in such a progressive educational movement.

Varsity Revue

This year's Varsity Revue was one of the best in its many years of production. Under the direction of Miss Willard, the students developed the theme, "Hit the Road," in three colorful sections. The first of these was centered around sports and Lockwood; the second depicted the Lockwood interpretation of a group of Broadway acts; and the third, entitled "Christmas Fantasy" was highlighted by the crowning of the Varsity Queen.

This year's queen, Caroline Haswell, was attended by Margaret Bradbury, '55; Nancy Trainor, '55; Dorothy Cole, '56; Mary Lee Herbert, '56; Marcia Meade, '57; and Helen Ionata, '57.

During the remainder of the year the band took part in concerts and in Rhode Island and New England Audition Festivals. Many of the members participated in All-State Band, Rhode Island and New England Solo, Ensemble, and Concert Festivals.

Orchestra

This year's orchestra, though not so large as in past years, has been successful. They have played at all the assemblies and various other programs in the school. Varsity Football

The Lockwood Blue Devils enjoyed a highly successful 1954 football season. Under the fine coaching of Mr. DiLuglio, Mr. Rallis, and Mr. Shola, Lockwood captured a Co-Championship with Burrillville. The team's only stumbling block for the championship came from the hands of the Broncos.

Lockwood was honored with having Henry Cruciani selected as an All-State tackle and Robert Baute, John Padula, David Manson, Earl Bonner, and James Holden selected to the All-Class C team.

Seniors who played their last game for Lockwood were Ends: James Guetti, James Lasso and Robert Butler; Tackles: Richard Savory, Wallace MacLeod and Henry Cruciani; Guards: John Padula, Earl Bonner, and Pete Erickson; Center: Robert Baute, and in the back field, James Holden and Don Lancellotta.

As this is the final year for Lockwood as a senior high school, there will not be a varsity football team next year. Lockwood will contribute, however, some excellent football talent to the new high school.

In the coaching department, Mr. Rallis was assisted by Mr. Bennett both last year and this year. We had a fine, hustling team and displayed good sportsmanship throughout the season.

J. V. Basketball

The Junior Varsity basketball team, under the direction of Mr. Bennett, completed a successful '54-'55 season. Through Mr. Bennett the boys gained experience by which the future varsity basketball teams of the new high school will profit. Outstanding for the J. V.'s were Al Donovan, John Lowder, Paul Joly, and Russ Greer.

This year Mr. Carroll, baseball coach, had many veterans return. Among them were James Holden, hard hitting infielder, David Manson, star pitcher, and John Alberigo, long-hitting outfielder. Mr. Carroll expected a better season this year with many of the boys having gained experience.

Junior High Baseball

The 1954 Lockwood Junior High Baseball Team under the coaching of Mr. DiLuglio completed another fine season, losing only to Gorton and South Kingston. Starting out with only two veterans, Paul Joly and Raymond Gauthier, Mr. DiLuglio molded his team around them. These players were backed up by Nick Mezonette, Al King, and Eddie Albies in the infield and Steve Healy in the outfield. With more veterans returning this year Mr. DiLuglio looked forward to an even more successful 1955 season.

TENNIS

Varsity Tennis

This year, the last for Lockwood's tennis team, should prove to be the best yet. Our lettermen: David Collom, Richard Downs, Arnold Lockwood, Wallace McLeod, Fourn Powell, Robert Ramsay, and Allan Gammons, aided by new players, gave Lockwood a tennis team of which to be proud. Mr. Rittman, tennis coach, instructed the squad in the fine points of tennis. Although the team failed to take the championship last year, the experience gained in these previous matches helped to make Lockwood a strong contender for this year's championship.

Farewell To Alma Mater

'Tis only with the passing years
That we shall learn how dear thou art.
How firm the ties of love that bind
Us to thy mighty mother-heart.

Thine were the hands that guided us
Along the thorny paths of Truth,
Firmly directing to their goal
The aimless wanderings of youth.

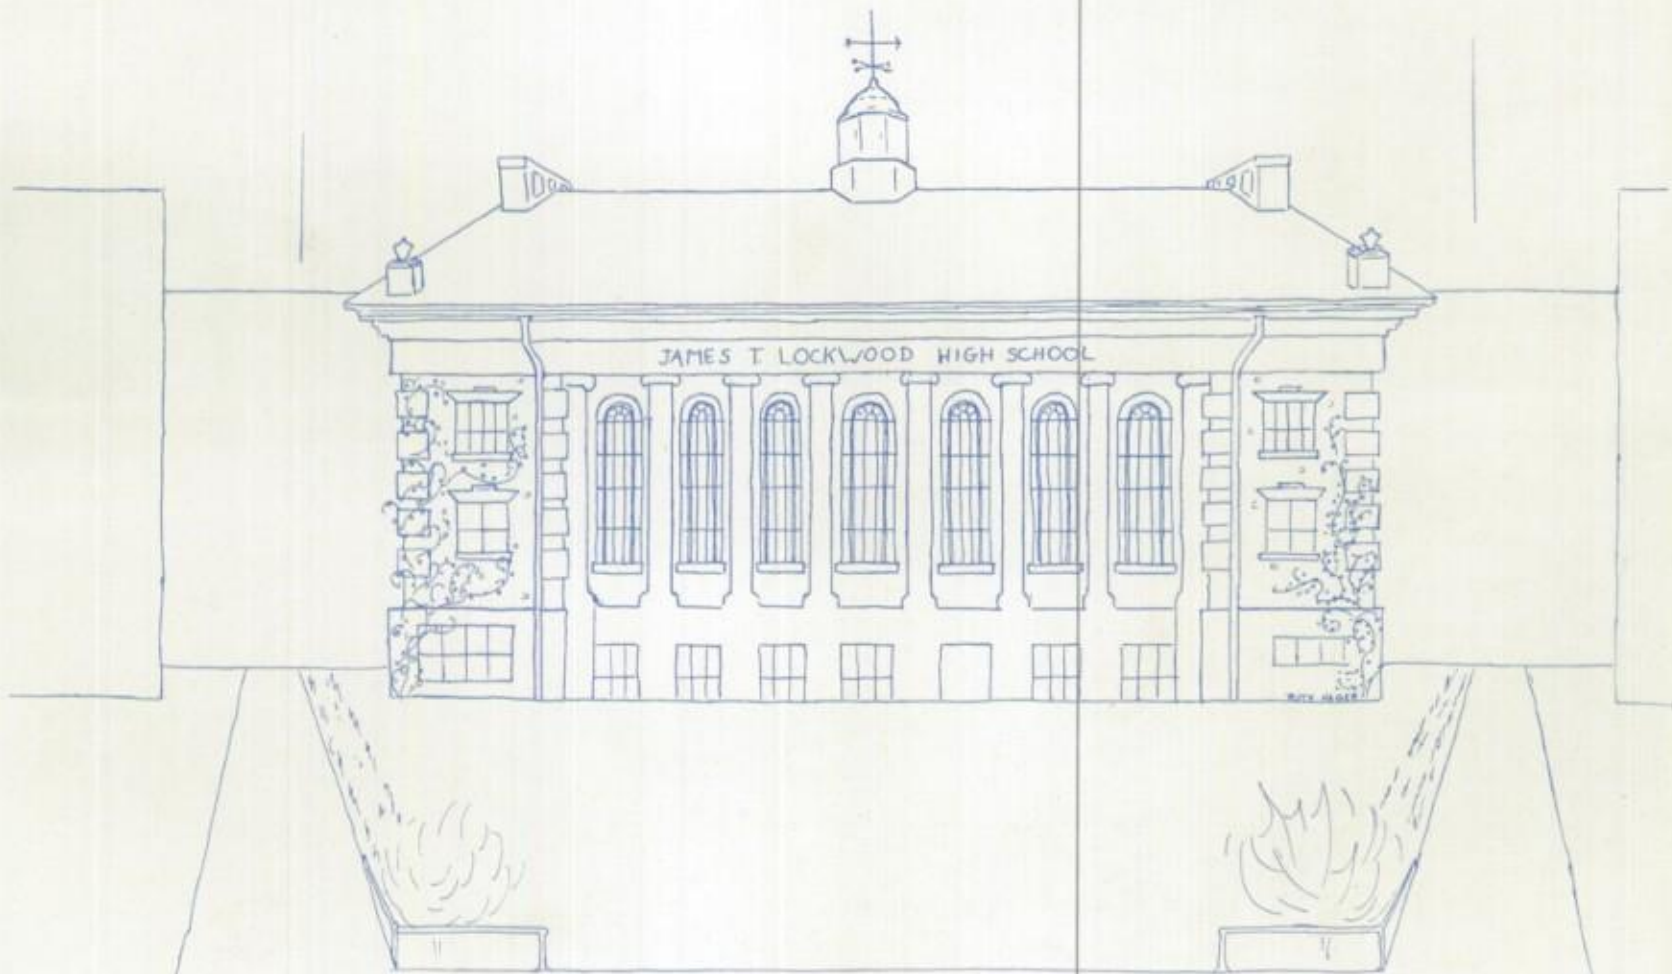

Thou didst prepare our fallow minds
That seeds of knowledge might take root,
Sublimely trusting Time to bring
Thy sole reward—the perfect fruit.

Our bodies knew thy watchful care;
We learned the tender reverence paid
Those temples of the living God,
Each in His form and image made.

Thou wast our refuge from the storm,
Our happy hours thou too hast known;
To share in triumphs yet to come
We proudly claim thee as our own.

What worth we have we owe to thee,
O, cherished more than tongue can tell.
Forget thy children not—and now,
Hail, Alma Mater, and farewell!
